

NT in grip of grog, dope

Northern Territory News: October 25, 2008

This article discusses results from a study done by the Australian Institute of Health and Welfare, that "alcohol and cannabis are the top drugs of concern for Territorians seeking treatment." Of all drug and alcohol treatments in the Northern Territory last year, treatments for cannabis made up 23 per cent, exceeded only by alcohol treatments, at over 40 per cent.